

MOVE TO WIN NEW INJUNCTION

Steps Being Taken In Richmond Today To Get Injunction

Counsel For Auction Men Decides To Press Fight and Plans Petitioning Supreme Court for New Restraining Order Against Co-Ops.

Julian Meade counsel for the Danville auction warehousemen is in Richmond today for the purpose of conferring with associate counsel recently retained in that city and of appearing before a judge of the Supreme Court to secure an injunction against the Co-operative Marketing Association. This will precipitate a decision by the court on the constitutionality of the Virginia marketing law. The attorney will carry out in Richmond virtually the same process seen here when a restraining order was asked, entered and dissolved by the court within two weeks.

Mr. Meade is understood to have left for Richmond last night following a conference with his clients, the Danville Warehouse Corporation and the Piedmont Warehouse Company, Inc., who authorized him to proceed immediately with the task of bringing the issue before the highest court in Virginia.

A bill setting forth the allegations will be presented to one of the judges of the Supreme Court who would have the right to issue or refuse to issue a restraining order. This would remain in force until the Co-operative Marketing Association filed notice that they would seek the dissolution of the injunction and a date would be set for the appearance of counsel before the supreme court judge or the whole court just in the same way that arguments were heard by Judge Withers for and against the issue.

Danville auction warehousemen, who have fully digested the decision of Judge Withers relative to the dissolution of the restraining order, entered against the Co-operative Marketing Association, do not feel that the decision is as hostile to their interests as appeared on the surface yesterday. Discussions with warehousemen today reflected the general view that while they had lost in their effort to suspend enforcement of the Virginia marketing laws for the remainder of the tobacco season they have won in the sense that the inspectors of the Association are prohibited, under the ruling from entering the sale floors where tobacco is displayed, in order that they might, in the event of finding the tobacco of a contract breaker, serve notice there and then on the auction warehouse manager that the tobacco pledged to him was not his and that he could not sell it. Under the court's ruling the inspectors are denied the right to do this and while they have free access to the tickets in the warehouse office, these will be available only after the sale is over and it will be impossible to do more than sue the delinquent contract signer for liquidated damages.

TOWN TOPICS

The bird season opened today, in Pittsylvania, Henry and other nearby Virginia counties. A large number of Danville sportsmen who have been eagerly awaiting the arrival of the open season took the field early this morning to try their luck, and to see if recent reports that game is more abundant than usual is founded on fact. Interest in the hunting season has been emphasized during the past three or four days at the clerk's office where an almost constant stream of applicants of hunting licenses has been in evidence.

Further steps towards the amalgamation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Young Men's Business Club are expected to be taken tomorrow night when the directors of each organization will meet for a "Dutch supper" at the Country Club. It was learned today that the young men's organization has considered the counter proposal made to the Chamber of Commerce. It was learned this morning, however, that the two organizations are gradually nearing one another through a spirit of compromise and that the merger is now more likely than it was several weeks ago.

The Danville Kiwanis will observe the "Father and Son" movement tonight at their regular fortnightly meeting when they will dine at the Y. W. C. A., each member taking his son or another boy with him for the evening's entertainment.

The city charter revision commission is to meet again tonight at the council chamber to give further consideration to the charter. It is possible that the members will take action tonight on the proposed amendment to the charter which would place the superintendent of public utilities before the council for election instead of before the people as is now the case. Some years ago this office was filled by the council but by legislative enactment sponsored by Berryman Green, who represented Danville in the State House, a change was made. The revision commission is on the suggestion that the charter in its amended form be submitted to popular vote for ratification instead of permitting the council to pass on the amended charter finally, as provided under the present charter.

The Boatwright furniture factory which closed down last Friday evening will resume operations next Monday morning at full capacity, it was learned today. More than one hundred workers employed there have been notified of the resumption of the plant.

John Bustard supervisor of sales on the auction market stated this morning that it would require double sales at Acres and at Piedmont warehouses to dispose of all the tobacco displayed here today. The sales have been uniformly heavy every day this week and the week's total is expected to show the largest amount disposed of in any one week since the market opened.

Efforts were made this morning to reopen the case of the State against L. H. Brooks, negro undertaker, convicted of a misdemeanor in connection with the burial of two negro men some time ago. Counsel for the defense moved for a retrial on the ground that after discovered evidence had been secured. The State was given the right to file objections and the matter was continued until next Saturday when the court will rule on the motion for a new trial.

Discuss Proposed Increase In Import 'Duty On Wheat'

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Tariff Commission put its machinery in motion today to study the question of increasing the duty on wheat to determine whether present conditions call for an increase in the import duty on wheat.

Preparations for the assembling of information to show whether the present tariff of 30 cents a bushel affords adequate protection to American producers was the first step in the investigation. All interests concerned in the inquiry will be given an opportunity to present their views at a preliminary hearing to be held November 26.

While it was the principal object of the hearing to expedite final action as much as possible, commission members asserted that it probably would not be possible to complete the study and formulate recommendations to the president in less than three months.

With another thirty days required by the law before an increase could become effective, doubt was expressed as to whether anything could be done in time to help the market for this year's crop.

Horses On Way To Scene Of Race

(By The Associated Press.) LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 15.—The roughneck admirers here were prepared today to extend an enthusiastic welcome to the Pan-American stable crack 3-year-old arriving from the east for his scheduled match at Churchill Downs Saturday, with In Memoriam. A message received here last night from Sam Hill, Jr., the Kentucky winner and his other horses at the Danville race track, said that the horses were on their way to the scene of the race.

Husband May Be Vice President

Mrs. Royal S. Copeland, who accompanied her husband to Danville last Sunday when he made the Armistice Day address, made a lasting impression on all who met her during the visitors' stay here. The above is a reproduction of a studio portrait of the woman whose husband is reported to be seriously considered as a running mate for W. G. McAdoo should the latter obtain the Democratic nomination in the next presidential election.

Brands Whisky Law Violators Traitors

Rev. H. W. Battle, Speaking to Baptist Association Denounces Violators of 18th Amendment and Declares That They Commit Treason in Principle.

(By The Associated Press.) RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—Branding all violators of the prohibition laws as traitors to their country, Rev. H. W. Battle, of Charlottesville, speaking before the Virginia Baptist General Association, denouncing all persons who do not adhere to the ruling of the 18th amendment. Dr. Battle declared that future generations will rank the prohibition amendment with the reformation of the overthrow of the rights of kings, the abolition of human slavery and the passing of the doctrine that might makes right.

He expressed the conviction that prohibition in the United States will ultimately mean prohibition everywhere. "The liquor interests of this country and of the world now fully realize that if prohibition works successfully in the United States it will mean the doom of the liquor traffic everywhere."

Commenting upon the agitation for wine and beer, Dr. Battle said: "Let there be no yielding. If the door is left ajar it will not be long before it will be pushed wide open, for booze in all its accursed forms." He rapped those who indulge in today's drinking, saying: "If we could drag the church member who still cherishes and indulges in his toddy from whatever source obtained, into the light the problem of prohibition enforcement would be instantly simplified."

To what extent southern Baptists are expected to accept religious responsibilities in Europe was outlined by Mrs. W. C. James at the morning session of the liquor traffic annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of Virginia. The address was followed by a brief business meeting. Mrs. John P. Vines, vice-president, and past president, will address the afternoon session on "The Light on the Shindown." This meeting will close tomorrow with the election of officers.

Y. M. C. A. Directors Will Meet Today

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Danville Young Men's Christian Association which was postponed from November 12 on account of the Community Chest campaign will be held at 5:00 p. m. this afternoon.

The usual reports of the standing committees and the monthly report of General Secretary E. G. Corwin, for October will be reviewed by A. P. Carrington, chairman of the board, will preside at the meeting.

O'Ryan Declares He Will Prove Truth Of Mortimer's Charges

Resents Statement by Forbes Against Committee Counsel and Reiterates Charges Against Former Vets Bureau Head Are True and Will Be Proved Convincingly.

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Stirred by Charles R. Forbes' charges against committee counsel, John F. O'Ryan today declared that he expected to prove convincingly the whole truth of Mortimer's charges that Colonel Forbes was one of the gang of conspirators who were plotting to overthrow the government. "I expect further to show," O'Ryan said, "that this criminal conduct was in consonance with his previous life record."

The statement of General O'Ryan, who is the committee's general counsel, was made immediately upon resumption of the hearing and before the cross examination of the former director of the Veterans Bureau was resumed.

"Yesterday in the cross examination of Colonel Forbes," O'Ryan said, "he made charges that the testimony thus far introduced which impeaches his character is not only false but is the result of subornation of perjury and the coercion of witnesses."

"He also charged that documents and papers which would have indicated the innocence of Colonel Forbes, were withheld by counsel for the committee."

"When asked for proof of these charges, the witness said that his counsel would produce the proof and thereupon his counsel said he was prepared to offer the proof to the committee."

"I did not wish at that time to abandon the cross examination of the witness to go in a collateral matter. It is a well known recourse of embarrassed witnesses to distract attention from themselves by attacking others."

"Colonel Forbes I regard as irresponsible. I expect, however to prove more than his irresponsibility in his conduct of office and in his lack of care of the estate."

"Colonel Easby-Smith (counsel for Forbes) is an officer of the court and is responsible, and I ask him here and now if he has any proof of any improper action toward any witness or improper action of any other character upon my part or upon the part of Major Arnold, my assistant counsel?"

Chairman Reed interrupted to say that the committee had held over and over again the cross examination of Forbes or any other person and that the committee did not desire to lose sight of the main issue, which is the investigation of the Veterans Bureau. He asked, however, that if the committee's processes have been used for the suppression of the truth, the committee desired to know it.

Mr. Easby-Smith responded that he would submit to the committee a list of documents which Forbes claims were withheld.

General O'Ryan then demanded to know whether those charges were directed against general counsel or assistant counsel and M. Easby-Smith replied:

"I am making no charges. The charges are made by Colonel Forbes. I hold that this questioning of me by committee counsel is entirely improper. I shall consult with the committee and furnish the list of withheld documents at the noon recess if that is desirable."

Chairman Reed said that the committee would meet him at that time and that the cross examination of Forbes continued.

"Are you a native American or a naturalized citizen?" Forbes was asked by General O'Ryan at the outset of today's examination.

"I am a naturalized citizen."

"I want to know if the former bureau director had had an altercation with Mortimer of Labor Day, 1922."

"I had some words with him but do not remember when it was."

"Was it about Mrs. Mortimer?"

"I don't remember. It might have been partially about her."

Forbes conceded that Mortimer had found the former director and Mrs. Mortimer in an apartment at the Waldorf Park Inn here, but declared the door was wide open.

The former director denied that it was a few days later, as he became indignant because of Mortimer's connection with the Sutherland Construction Company.

Forbes said he had been given a position of mechanical engineer in the bureau at George F. Tuillio, Jr., a brother of Mrs. Mortimer. He was 22 years old and his salary, Forbes said, was $3,000 a year.

"Do you swear that that a pointment was not made to please Mrs. Mortimer?" asked O'Ryan.

"I swear," said Forbes.

O'Ryan wanted to know if Forbes knew that E. Tripp, of the Supply Bureau, had put the proceeds from the Perryville, Maryland, sale of supplies in the bank in Tripp's name.

"I heard about it when I returned from New York," Forbes said. "It was an unusual occurrence of course."

"Committee counsel asked what safeguards there were to prevent this practice."

"The matter was in the hands of the finance division," the witness replied.

"Life Insurance—Buy from Bass."

FOUR KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH

(By The Associated Press.) NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 15.—Four Columbus men were killed this morning when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by Pennsylvania passenger train number 31 at Prazzaburg, northeast of here. The men were on their way for a day's hunt.

They were Lewis Combs, Oscar Norville, J. E. Turner, and Harry Watson, all of Columbus. Then men were from 20 to 35 years old.

Major J. Cors, of Prazzaburg, was the first to arrive at the scene of the accident and assisted in identifying the dead. He then called the coroner at Zanesville and notified authorities at Newark.

The men left Columbus early today for a day's hunting and were driving when the automobile was struck and it is assumed they did not see the approaching train, which is due in Columbus at 6:50 a. m.

The bodies were scattered along the track for a distance of several hundred feet.

Unfamiliarity with the country through which they were passing and tightly drawn curtains on their automobile was attributed by the coroner as the cause of the accident.

The body of Turner was carried on the pilot of the engine for several hundred feet. The men were identified by means of hunting licenses which they carried. The engine of the train was derailed but none of the engine crew was hurt. There were no witnesses to the accident.

REVOLT LEADERS MUST PAY THE DEATH PENALTY

(By The Associated Press.) ATHENS, Nov. 15.—A court at Eleusis sentenced to death Generals Leonardopoulos and Garasides and Majors Arvanthos and Nicolaeus, leaders of the recent revolutionary movement. Many other officers of high rank involved in the revolt were sentenced to imprisonment for life or long terms.

Cuban Editor Is Arrested On Libel Charge

HAVANNA, Nov. 15.—Edward De Laurel Slevin, editor of the Isle of Pines Appeal, has been arrested and released on bail on charge of having libeled President Zayas, according to dispatches received from the Isle of Pines. Mr. Slevin is an American who for a long time has resided in Cuba.

DANVILLE HAS ASPIRANT FOR BOK'S PEACE PRIZE

The Bee learned this morning that works out a practical application of this ideal and that it is not altogether idealistic nor religious in treatment.

The terms prescribed for the competition, all suggestions must be contained in 1,000 words. The time limit for the filing of these plans will expire at midnight tonight under the conditions laid down in the jury award $500 for the best manuscript and $50,000 additional when the plan is adopted by the United States Senate or the jury thinks enough popularity has been shown for it.

The jury of award is composed of Edwin Lloyd, Gen. James G. Harbord, Col. Edward M. House, Ellen F. Pondleton, Roscoe Pound, William Allen White and Brand Whitlock. It has been hard at work four or five weeks and is expected to make its award by the first of January.

When this is done the plan selected will be given the widest possible publicity through the press for public consideration and for a vote.

This will be done also through eight national organizations which form the Co-operative Council of the American Peace Award. The membership of these organizations runs into the millions. The conditions of award are in every one of 41,000 post offices in this country. They are also in 5,200 libraries.

Colleges, universities and schools are tremendously interested, as well as all sorts of people everywhere, as shown by letters filled with questions which are daily received. More than 245,000 individuals in the country have been supplied with the conditions in answer to their request.

Rev. Mr. Taylor in his peace plan, the view that there could be no permanent settlement of the post war problems in Europe or in the world until the principles of Jesus were adopted and applied in the conduct of national affairs. It is understood that Rev. Mr. Taylor in his peace plan,

INSTAL REPEATER AT NORTON, VA., TELEPHONE E X.

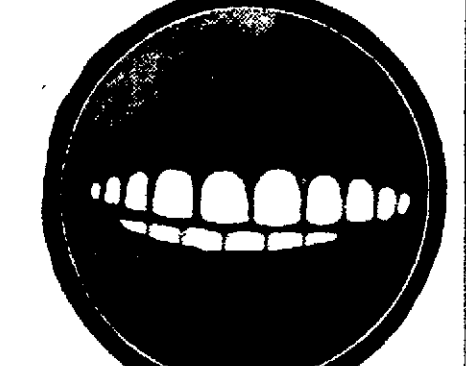

Long distance telephone calls would be impossible without the use of "repeaters" at various places to increase the distance of voice transmission hundreds and thousands of miles. If necessary, Manassas Telephone Company, stated yesterday to a Register reporter, his company recently installed at Norton, Va., repeaters and other apparatus which bring the telephone southwest section to Virginia within eighteen miles, telephonically speaking, of the rest of the State.

These repeaters strengthen the sound of the voice and it has become weakened by traveling over many miles of wire on the way to its destination. Restored to its normal strength, it goes on its way until weakened again and then another repeater builds it up. Without the repeaters, all the power available on earth would not be sufficient to carry a transcontinental telephone call, engineers have declared.

There are about 3,000 of these repeaters in use to increase the talking range of every telephone in the Bell System, according to Manager Eanes, Virginia has its share, as important repeating stations for long distance telephone messages are maintained at Richmond, Lynchburg and Norton.

COOLIDGE IS GRATIFIED.

(By The Associated Press.)
LOUISVILLE, Nov. 14.—President Coolidge has been gratified to learn that there is really very little demand for extreme, unaided and un-economic procedures in dealing with the present agricultural situation, he informed Robert W. Bingham, chairman of the executive committee of the National Cotton Operators Marketing Association in the United States, in a telegram made public here tonight.

No More Yellow Teeth

New Liquid Removes Stains—Whitens Teeth Instantly

A new harmless liquid has been discovered which in just three minutes—gives dull yellowish teeth a beautiful pearly whiteness. It's almost magical. You just brush your teeth with a few drops—and no matter how black or discolored they may have been—they instantly take on a charming new lustre, a marvelous snowy whiteness. Tobacco stains completely disappear after a few applications. This new liquid is called Bleachodent. Perfected by prominent Dentist.

Children's teeth are especially subject to stains, tartar and decay. In removing the stain, and cleansing and whitening the teeth, Bleachodent retards the formation of tartar and is a great aid in keeping the teeth sound and healthy. It is antiseptic, soothing, healing and generally beneficial to both teeth and gums. It is vitally important that only a safe, mild preparation like Bleachodent be used on children's teeth. Get it at Patterson Drug Co., Jacobus Drug Co., Frank McFall, J. C. McFall, Booth, Both's Drug Store—adv.

Francis Ouimet Plays 18 Holes On Danville Course

Francis Ouimet, of Boston, former amateur champion golfer of the United States and also former open champion of the United States, and one of the best known golfers in the world, was a guest of the Danville Golf Club yesterday afternoon.

Ouimet motored up to Danville yesterday with Charles Bradshaw, of Greensboro, and Leslie M. Harris, of New York, the latter being of the cotton brokerage firm of Harris, Ivey and Bose. Ouimet is connected with the Boston office of that firm and Mr. Bradshaw is the Greensboro representative.

It was not known until late in the forenoon that the famous golfer would play at the Stokesland course, but by 2 o'clock a fair sized gallery was on hand to watch him play.

Mr. Ouimet and his companions were entertained, yesterday at luncheon at the country club by John H. Schofield, Jr.

At 2 p. m. Mr. Ouimet, Mr. Schofield, H. R. Fitzgerald and Dr. W. O. Crumpler began a four-ball match. The final score was: Ouimet 77, Schofield 88, Crumpler 92, and Fitzgerald 96.

Those who had seen Ouimet play before said that he was not up to his usual good form on his tee shots, but that his iron shots and his approach shots were excellent.

On the first hole his drive was sliced into the rough. His mashie-niblick approach was just short of the green. However, he chipped to within three feet of the pin and was down in par four.

On the second hole, his drive was down the middle of the fairway. His iron to the green was just over. Again he chipped up dead to the pin and was down in par four. On the third hole his tee shot was sliced to the rough. His niblick shot was in the trap. He then hit the green. His next shot was almost over the green and he required two putts for a five, one over par.

On the 145 yard fourth hole his tee shot was a trifle strong, but held to the green, and with two putts, he was down in par three.

The long 518 yard fifth hole Mr. Ouimet declared to be one of the best three shot holes in the country. However, it was the only hole which he had any difficulty in negotiating. This hole was a fair drive, and he hit the extra strokes on both rounds, he being down twice in seven. He hooked on his tee shot for this hole and was in the edge of the pines, being stymied by a cluster of pines. He had to play his second shot short of the fairway. His next shot was a long brassie to the green, but hooked to the rough in a patch of briars. On playing out he was just short of the green. His chip shot was too short and he required two putts.

On the sixth hole, 180 yards, resulted in a birdie two, the mid-iron shot from the tee landing about twelve feet from the pin and stopping dead. Only one putt was required to hole out.

On the seventh hole the tee shot was hooked badly to the third fairway, but a beautiful mashie-niblick shot put him on the green and he was down in two putts. The shot from the eighth tee was strong and far down the fairway. The approach was a short shot to the green, due to Ouimet's unfamiliarity with the course, but a chip shot was within two feet of the hole and the player was down in par four.

For the 425 yard ninth hole the tee shot was long, but hooked to the right. An iron shot was 15 yards short of the green. A chip shot and three putts gave the player a six and 39 for the first nine holes.

On the second round of the nine-hole course Ouimet required 33, giving him 71 strokes for the 18 holes. Mr. Ouimet was very complimentary in his remarks about the course. He said it was a typical Donald Ross course, nicely trapped and in a year or two should be a very fine course. Due to warm casts the greens were not in first class condition, but the fairways were characterized as the equal of those at Pinehurst.

Mr. Ouimet said that his business would require him to be in this section occasionally and that he would certainly stop by Danville for another round on the Stokesland course to show his Danville gallery that he could be straight from the tees and keep his drives on the fairways when he was playing his usual game.

All of those who came in contact with Mr. Ouimet were captivated by his modesty as to his golfing prowess and his magnetic personality.

"DUTCH SUPPER" TO CONSIDER MERGER OF BUSINESS BODIES

President W. P. Boatwright, of the Chamber of Commerce, has sent out to the directors an invitation of rather an unorthodox nature, a "Dutch supper" at the Country Club tomorrow (Friday) evening at 6:30 o'clock to be attended by the heads of directors of the Chamber and the Young Men's Business Club and planned to afford an opportunity to discuss fully and frankly the plan of the proposed merger of the two organizations. Similar "invitations" have been issued to the Y. M. B. C. directors by the executive head of that organization.

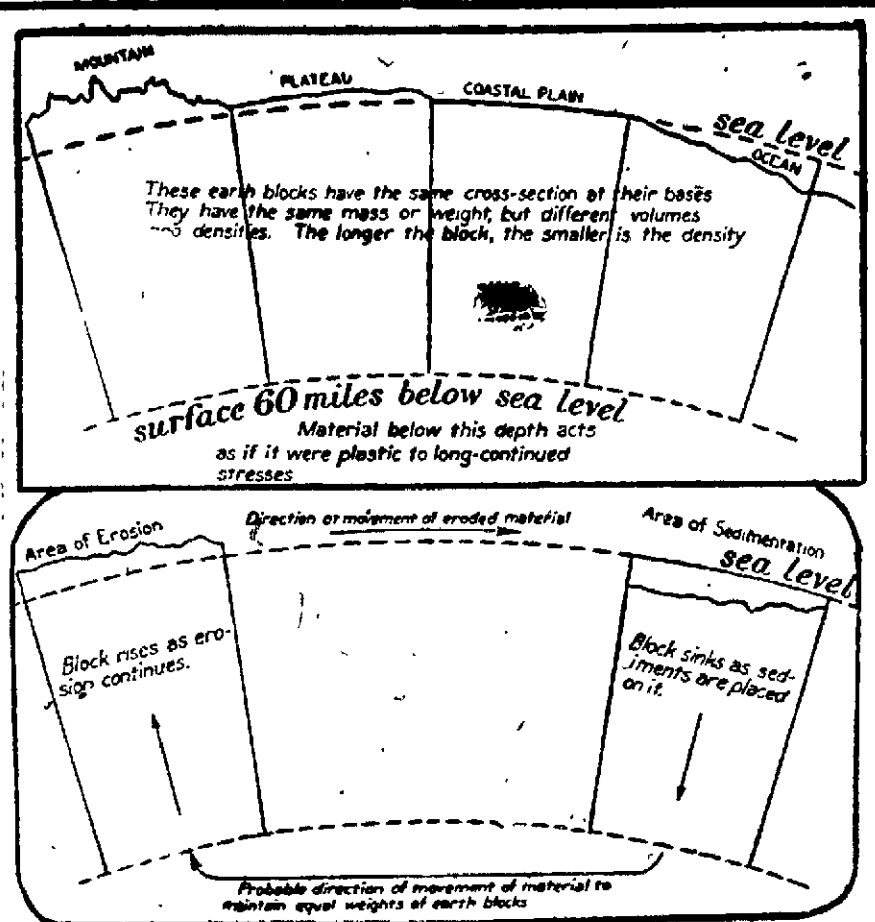

Altho the directors of the Chamber have had two meetings to consider and act upon this matter, but apparently the issue of consolidation proposed in the case of directors of the Chamber did not win the acquiescence of the members of the source organization.

EARTH SHIFTING GRADUALLY

Diagrams illustrating the gradual shifting of the earth's surface, showing the relationship between the surface, the crust, and the mantle, and how the surface is constantly being reshaped by erosion and sedimentation.

By HARRY B. HUNT
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Mountains are lighter than valleys. Submerged lands are heavier, per area, than the upland plains.

Such is the decision of William Bowie, chief of Uncle Sam's geodesy experts, whose job is to study variations of gravity. It is the effort of old Mother Earth to adjust changing pressures, due to these varying weights, that causes earthquakes, he says.

Bowie pictures the earth's crust as a covering, approximately sixty miles thick, resting on a central mass, which, instead of being molten, as generally believed, has at least the rigidity of steel.

This crust he conceives as a mass of vertical columns, comprising respectively mountains, plateaus, coastal plains and submerged lands. At a given time these are in a state of perfect equilibrium.

But natural changes disturb this equilibrium. Freezing and thawing, rainfall and melting snow erode and wash away hundreds of millions of tons of earth. These are carried out into the ocean and deposited as sediment on the ocean bed.

Slow Movement
This accumulating weight on the ocean bottom slowly forces the columns of crust downward. The compensating movement which must take place is an upward movement of the mountain column, carried through the solid central mass which is plastic, to long-continued stresses, as is steel.

Whenever quick shifts result, thru some weakness or fault in the upper crust or between two chafing weight-columns, then there is an earthquake. Normally, however, the adjustment in weight proceeds slowly, peacefully, without tremor, the result being that mountain, plateau and plain maintain apparently unchanging altitudes, being forced upward from below as they are worn away at the top. They are, Bowie says, simply floating on the central mass, the lighter columns floating highest, the heavier sections lower and submerged.

Every few millions of years, however, there comes a different readjustment, in which new continents and new mountain ranges are thrown up out of the ocean's depths and existing continents and mountains sink beneath the seas.

A submerged column, weighted down through the centuries by accumulating sediment, sometimes as much as 20,000 or 30,000 feet in depth, presses slowly downward into a zone of greater heat. The expansion which results finally culminates in an upheaval which throws up a whole new continent or mountain range.

JAPANESE QUAKE "SLIGHT"
The Himalayas, the highest mountains in the world, were once below sea level. Bowie explains, citing the power of such subterranean expansion. "Nearly all mountain areas were at one time areas of heavy sedimentation. This process of heavy sedimentation is now going on at the mouth of the Congo, in the Indo-Gangetic region, and about the La Plata estuary."

The recent Japanese quake, Bowie contends, was not, scientifically speaking, of first magnitude in action, but the public conception of an earthquake, he says, "gauges its intensity by the amount of damage done property and the number of lives lost. From that standard, the Japanese quake was severe. But in action, it was a very slight quake."

Declares Movement For McAdoo As President Of U. S. Has Strength

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—David L. Rockwell, of Ravenna, Ohio, pre-convention leader of the James M. Cox campaign in 1920 and now managing a campaign to obtain for Wm. G. McAdoo, Democratic said in a statement today that supporters of the former secretary of the treasury intend to nominate and elect him to the presidency.

Mr. Rockwell commented cautiously on Mr. McAdoo's own attitude, stating that "he would carefully consider every phase of the situation and determine for himself if his services are really desired by his party and the country."

During his visit to Chicago this week, Mr. McAdoo is understood to have conferred with Mr. Rockwell, who has been here several weeks. Mr. Rockwell's statement follows, in part: "McAdoo has been in Chicago for several days on his way to his home in Los Angeles from New York and Washington. While here he was visited by citizens that assured of the strength of the McAdoo movement for the presidency and authority to announce his candidacy for the nomination. Mr. McAdoo gave a careful hearing, stating that he would consider every phase of the situation and determine for himself if his services are really desired by his party and the country."

Miss Brinton to Visit Danville In Health Work

As a further step in the organization of a new all-around plan of health education for Danville's schools, in which the city's school and health officials are being aided by the Child Health Association, a specially delegated consultant of the association will come here to advise on the problem of school lunch organization for the entire school system.

Miss Grace Brinton, of the association's Health Education Division, will be in Danville the week of November 19 to confer with officers of the school board and health department with regard to making this phase of school activity consistently a part of the whole health program. Miss Ethel Perrin, another member of the New York organization, is now in Danville rendering assistance in the mapping out of the school physical education plan. The project of incorporating health training into the city school system has been undertaken as the first phase in a movement for community-wide health promotion, resulting from the recent health stock-taking in Danville which accompanied the city's candidacy for the Commonwealth Fund Child Health Demonstration. To capitalize the active public interest in health matters thus aroused, local civic, social, and health groups are availing themselves of the offer of aid tendered the city by officials of the American Child Health Association, when they visited Danville in their survey of demonstration sites, for working out a permanent constructive health plan for the city's future.

A consulting nursing service equal to the best obtainable in the largest hospitals and cities, has been put within reach of the citizen of the smallest hamlet and village, through a joint working agreement to supply such a service, on the American Child Health Association of which Herbert Hoover is president, and the National Organization of Public Health Nursing.

With the bare announcement of the plan which was sent broadcast, hundreds of nurses and nurses-in-training, in which the leaders of both organizations say, indicates not only that the idea is one that was needed, but that here is a wide field for the work. The plan will be worked out by supplying inquirers with whatever information in the nursing field they desire, through correspondence, or by actual consultation with nurses.

The service will include regular determination in all branches of the work, and the speed is expected to be seen according to those in back of the movement in the results reported from small outlying communities where nurses are almost unknown and where it has been next to impossible to get desired information on nursing service.

OFFICERS FIND STILL REMOVED

State Prohibition Inspector W. T. Shelton, accompanied by B. F. Heffinger, T. P. Smith and J. E. Rose, yesterday responded to a call from Turkey Creek Mountain on the Franklin-Patrick line, where it was said a large still was in operation.

When the officers arrived they found that the still and whiskey had been moved, but eight fermenters and two tubs of mash were found. The outfit on the still site was destroyed.

England Astir on Eve of Election

Present Parliament Ends Brief Career With Events of Far Reaching Importance—Much Speculation Is Seen.

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 15.—This is the last day of life for the present parliament.

British parliaments often pass out of existence uneventfully, but this one ends its brief career amid events of far reaching importance. At least two of the speeches which are to accompany the dissolution of the present parliament are determined to be of great importance. One of these is the government's new protection policy.

Everyone was eager to know whether Mr. MacDonald would declare emphatically for a capital levy, making this the main plank of the labor-socialist platform, for it is widely believed that the fortunes of the laborites would be deeply affected in the coming elections by their adherence to or repudiation of such a measure. Apparently, however, there have been misgivings recently among the labor leaders as to whether a levy on capital would gain or lose votes for the party and now it is said the plank is about to be dropped.

Should the plank be abandoned as part of labor's policy, the conservatives would lose a valuable argument against the laborite candidates both on the platform and at the polls. Just now the impending election appears to be generally distasteful while the difficulties the conservatives are encountering in bringing Lord Birkenhead and Austen Chamberlain back into the fold are dimming their prospects. The conservative newspapers today admit rumors that Mr. Chamberlain will be unable to join the government because of difficulties over the tariff and also that the party will not have the services of Lord Birkenhead in the campaign. It is admitted that the negotiations with Birkenhead have been broken definitely, while belief is expressed that Chamberlain will follow his friend.

The reunion of the liberal party has greatly strengthened the hopes of that party and its newspapers are confident and in high spirits. The date for the assembling of the new parliament, when it is elected, is discussed in the proclamation dissolving the present session. It will be fixed for not earlier than December 10 but it is hoped the new House of Commons will hardly meet before January.

TAX AFFECTS BUSINESS.
ATLANTA, Nov. 14.—Extreme interest is being shown in business circles over the deliberations of the legislature on the suggestion for a general income tax. Business men in general oppose the income tax system while agriculture interests seem to favor it. Measures are also pending to exempt from taxation for varying periods of years foreign capital invested in new industries in Georgia.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out, and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. If a disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1923.
EDUCATION—THEN AND NOW

Youth must be pardoned its preference for play and its abhorrence
of work, under which latter category
it has ever placed "going to school."
Boys and girls like school but they
like older folk, must have something
of which to grumble and complain
so they invariably find school work
an ordeal of toil and struggle. In the grade and high schools the youth of the land acquires an almost professional aptitude for haranguing the tyranny of an education which confines them to the school room at
"hard labor" for six hours a day, five
days a week, nine months in the year,
less holidays and holi-weeks served
abundantly during the nine months.
Later, at the college and university
age, American fathers can affirm
signed statements of laborious struggles for an education consuming
much natural illumination as well as large quantities of "midnight oil."
While musing over the obstacles
and hardships met by the young men
and women of today in their pursuit
of an education, the editor in an ancient tome ran across the daily program followed by the students of a boarding school in Ireland 100 years ago. Under this program the pupils
arose at 5:30 o'clock in the morning and retired at 9 o'clock at night. Between those hours the pupils had
three hours for meals and recreation, reserving the remaining 12 for work on the boarding school farm
and in the classroom. The school term extended from the beginning to the end of the pupil's period of education, with short vacations at such times as exceptional deportment
elicited from instructors so absorbed in pedagogics as to be impervious to anything but most exceptional good behavior.
Considering the desirability and advantages of an education and the curriculum of the old Irish boarding school, aren't most of the complaints of the pupils and scholars of today really imaginary and a rebellion by a highly independent youth
against restraint and discipline?

ANOTHER "CURE" FOR DIVORCE

The solution of the divorce problem is the 50-50 marriage, suggests
Mrs. Thomas Winter, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. There has never been found a sure cure for divorce-itis, but if the 50-50 marriage is that cure and can be administered in wholesale quantities Mrs. Winter should become about the most popular family doctor
matrimony has yet been introduced to.
Winter is not the first person to recommend the "give and
don't take" marriage to prevent divorce and she will not be the first
matrimonial soothsayer to discover,
after all philosophizing is over, that divorce is too deep-rooted in human frailty and selfishness to respond to any single cure. The 50-50 marriage
would abolish divorce but first you must have the 50-50 marriage, and
right there you have the problem
and cause of divorce. If marriage was a 50-50 proposition with the married there would be no divorce
and there is divorce because human beings are not constituted to be 50-50
in anything. Most people are selfish even in matrimony before and after
and where there is a generous soul
it is generally mated with intolerable
selfishness. The general interpretation of the 50-50 marriage is the marriage of the golden rule in marriage, a matrimonial condition as it were where husband takes no more than he would be willing to give and

where wifery is just as considerate.
No, before the 50-50 marriage can be there must be a race of 50-50
people. Evolution may do the trick.

WHY NOT?

Prohibition Commissioner Roy A.
Haynes, with one hand on his heart
and the other high in air, informed
the citizenship conference three weeks ago that his enforcement unit
was as "efficient, effective and loyal
a body of men as any in the public service." However, the commissioner has lately been driven to make some manner of reply to the growing agitation for the removal of his unit
from politics. He has suggested finally that his efficient and effective battalion be transferred without examination to the classified service
and continue to operate with no further inquiry into their capacity or suitability for their jobs. Since he admits his enforcement unit is an extraordinarily honest and capable
group of citizens, he professes to see
no necessity for having civil service
examiners waste their time confirming his own infallible judgment.
This is hardly calculated to arouse
any spontaneous and overwhelming
approval in persons who have always looked with misgiving on a separate,
politically controlled enforcement
unit created while an admirable department of justice was available to assume the task. It will conjure no enthusiasm in those who, seeing that Mr. Volstead and promoters of organized dry agitation were determined to create a privately controlled agency, insisted that agents be selected through the civil service. As everyone now knows, the failure to do this has resulted in many sections in a dizzy succession of nendscrips hired for political reasons and fired when their incapacity became too blatant or their methods too
scandalous for further countenance.
The Civil Service Reform League,
which strenuously denounced the
saturation of the unit with politics
in the beginning, now demands that
the spoils system be kicked out of federal enforcement. It has three years' experience to support that demand. It was a costly and disastrous error to create a separate enforcement agency at all. If this mistake is to survive, the least that be insisted upon now is that enforcement agents, including those now on the rolls, be as fit for their jobs as
are mail carriers and $1,200 department clerks.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Clifford C. Robinson

A NEW HEALTH CURE

A new health cure is on the market. There are about 100 million millions of this cure in the United States.
A leading automobile official is authority for the statement, that after a careful investigation, it has been found that the automobile is the cause for an increased length of life.
In 1902, according to this official,
the average life span in the United States was only 37.64 years. It has jumped to 48.66 years. "In this connection it is interesting to note that in 1902 there were only 10,850 automobiles in the United States. In 1913
when motor cars had increased to 461,500, the life span of the average person had advanced to 41.01 years.
In the last ten years the motor car
population has jumped to 13,002,427
and the national life expectancy has risen 1.65 years. This would seem to indicate that the automobile is actually making life longer and happier, in automobile reasoning.
Now comes Dr. Chas. H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., who states that cleanliness and intelligence are the great aids in avoiding infection and lengthening life. The boy of today
has twelve more years coming to him
than his grandfather did. Five more years could be added if every man
and woman would undergo a rigid health examination when 40 years of age, and follow health rules.
Dr. James B. Eagleston of Seattle,
says that medical science has advanced the span of life at least ten
years during the last quarter century.
From the foregoing, it would be a matter of choice to decide the cause for increased longevity. If a large number who ride in automobiles don't worry too much about the upkeep and where the money is coming from to pay up the balance on the car, all well and good. It certainly takes them away from four walls
into the open air and sunshine.
But if you are fair, fat and forty,
look out for trouble. If automobile
riding is all the health exercise you take.

clared an extra dividend of $1.25 on
the common stock in addition to the regular dividend of $1.25 on the common and $1.50 on the preferred
stocks.
Ingersoll-Rand Company stockholders were voted an extra cash
dividend of $2 on the common stock,
and the regular quarterly 2 per cent dividend on the common stock
and regular semi-annual $2
dividends on the preferred stock.
Other extra dividends included $0
on the preferred Oil River common and $1 on the preferred Essex Company, and $1 on the preferred $7
per share by the Essex Company.

DRAKES BRANCH, Nov. 15.—
(Grapovine Wireless).—In a nearby
Vine county, a controversy arose
as to whether the county
or the state should build
a bridge across a designated stream. The matter finally resulted in taking the case into court. The whole affair
hinged on the width of the stream and many witnesses were examined with
a view to finding out just how wide it was. Finally an Irishman was called to the stand and asked the customary question about
the width of the stream.
"Shure an' 'tis not very wide," said
he. "Come, come," said the judge.
"You must give a plainer answer than that. Now just how wide is this stream?" "Shure an' as I said before 'tis not very wide. Your honor,
I could spit half way across it."
"Here, here," exclaimed the judge.
"Your out of order." "O' know that O'm out of order," returned Pat, "fer
if O' wuzent O' I could spit clean across it." And the county built the bridge.

Worse Yet.

A MATING IN THE WILDS

By OTT WELLS BINNS
ILLUSTRATED BY
-RUSSELL FIELD-

CHAPTER I
The Man From the River
THE MAN in the canoe was lean
and hardy, and wielded the
paddle against the slow-moving
current of the wide river with a dex-
terity that proclaimed long practice.
His bronzed face was that of a quiet
young man, but his brown hair was
interspersed with gray, and his blue
eyes had a gravity incompatible
with youth, as if already he had experienced of the seriousness of life,
and had eaten of its bitter fruits.
This was a northern post of the Hudson Bay Company, built in the
form of a hollow square with a wide frontage open to the river. The
trading store, the warehouse, and
the factor's residence with its trim
garden, occupied the other three
sides of the square, and along the
river front was a small floating
wharf. A tall flag-pole rose above
the buildings, and the flag itself flut-
tered gaily in the summer breeze,
taking the eye at once with its brave
coloring.
The young man in the canoe noticed it whilst he was half a mile
away, and for a moment ceasing his
paddling, he looked at it doubtfully,
his brow puckering over his grave
eyes.
He dipped his paddle again. The
canoe ceased to drift and began to
force ahead towards the post. Before he drew level with it, he started
to steer across the current, but instead of making for the wharf,
beached his canoe on the rather
marshy bank to the north of the
buildings; then having lifted it out
of the water, he stood on his toes
and stretched himself, for he
had been traveling in the canoe
eleven days and was conscious of
body stiffness owing to the cramped
position he had so long maintained.
Then he became aware of sounds
for which he had not listened—the
voices of men somewhere in the
post's enclosure, and nearer at
hand, that of some one singing in
some soft Indian dialect. He turned
swiftly, and coming along a hedge-
lined path between the willows,
caught sight of the finger—a native
girl of amazing beauty.
Almost unconsciously the man
took a step forward. But at that
the girl, turning suddenly, fled between the willows like the creature
of the wild she was, and the man
checked himself and stood watching
until she was lost to view.
At the end of half an hour, having
lit a pipe, he strolled towards the
trading post. Entering the Square
of the enclosure, he looked not
cheerily about him. Two men, half-
breeds, were sitting on a rotunda-
made bench outside the store, smoking and talking. Inside the store
a tall Indian was bargaining with
a white man, whom he easily guessed
to be the factor, and as he looked
round from the open door of the
factor's house, emerged a white
woman whom he divined was the factor's wife. She was followed by
a rather dapper young man of
medium height, and who, most in-
conspicuously in that wild Northland,
carried a single eyeglass. The man
fell into step by the woman's side,
and together they began to walk
across the Square in the direction
of the store.
The man from the river watched
them idly, waiting where he was,
putting slowly at his pipe, until they
drew almost level with him. Then
he stiffened suddenly, and an alert
look came in his eyes.
At the same moment the other
man, apparently becoming aware of
his presence for the first time, stared
at him calmly, almost insolently.
Then he started. The monocle
dropped from his eye, and his face
went suddenly white. He half-
paused in his stride, then averting
his eyes from the other man hurried
on.

THE MAN IN THE CANOE WHEELED THE PADDLE WITH A DEXTERITY THAT PROCLAIMED LONG PRACTICE.

was working as if he had lost control of his facial muscles, and his
hands were tightly clenched.
"The bound!" he whispered to himself, "the contemptible bound!"
Then as Ainley and the factor's
wife disappeared in the store, he
laughed harshly and relit his pipe.
"No," he whispered to himself
breath. "I'll wait till the cool comes
out—I'll force him to acknowledge
me."
But scarcely had he reached the
decision, when on the quiet air came
the clear notes of a bugle sounding
the alert and turning his thoughts
in a new direction. The notes came from the river and were so alien
to that northern land that he swung
round to discover their origin. At
the same moment the two half-
breeds leapt from the bench and
began to run towards the wharf. John Rodwell, the factor and his wife,
emerged from the store and hurried
in the same direction, followed by
the Indian who had been bargaining.
Two other men appeared at the
warehouse door, and as the strains
of the bugle sounded again, also began to run towards the wharf.

A MATING IN THE WILDS

By OTT WELLS BINNS

-RUSSELL FIELD-

CHAPTER I
The Man From the River
THE MAN in the canoe was lean
and hardy, and wielded the
paddle against the slow-moving
current of the wide river with a dex-
terity that proclaimed long practice.
His bronzed face was that of a quiet
young man, but his brown hair was
interspersed with gray, and his blue
eyes had a gravity incompatible
with youth, as if already he had experienced of the seriousness of life,
and had eaten of its bitter fruits.
This was a northern post of the Hudson Bay Company, built in the
form of a hollow square with a
wide frontage open to the river. The
trading store, the warehouse, and
the factor's residence with its trim
garden, occupied the other three
sides of the square, and along the
river front was a small floating
wharf. A tall flag-pole rose above
the buildings, and the flag itself flut-
tered gaily in the summer breeze,
taking the eye at once with its brave
coloring.
The young man in the canoe noticed it whilst he was half a mile
away, and for a moment ceasing his
paddling, he looked at it doubtfully,
his brow puckering over his grave
eyes.
He dipped his paddle again. The
canoe ceased to drift and began to
force ahead towards the post. Before he drew level with it, he started
to steer across the current, but instead of making for the wharf,
beached his canoe on the rather
marshy bank to the north of the
buildings; then having lifted it out
of the water, he stood on his toes
and stretched himself, for he
had been traveling in the canoe
eleven days and was conscious of
body stiffness owing to the cramped
position he had so long maintained.
Then he became aware of sounds
for which he had not listened—the
voices of men somewhere in the
post's enclosure, and nearer at
hand, that of some one singing in
some soft Indian dialect. He turned
swiftly, and coming along a hedge-
lined path between the willows,
caught sight of the finger—a native
girl of amazing beauty.
Almost unconsciously the man
took a step forward. But at that
the girl, turning suddenly, fled between the willows like the creature
of the wild she was, and the man
checked himself and stood watching
until she was lost to view.
At the end of half an hour, having
lit a pipe, he strolled towards the
trading post. Entering the Square
of the enclosure, he looked not
cheerily about him. Two men, half-
breeds, were sitting on a rotunda-
made bench outside the store, smoking and talking. Inside the store
a tall Indian was bargaining with
a white man, whom he easily guessed
to be the factor, and as he looked
round from the open door of the
factor's house, emerged a white
woman whom he divined was the factor's wife. She was followed by
a rather dapper young man of
medium height, and who, most in-
conspicuously in that wild Northland,
carried a single eyeglass. The man
fell into step by the woman's side,
and together they began to walk
across the Square in the direction
of the store.
The man from the river watched
them idly, waiting where he was,
putting slowly at his pipe, until they
drew almost level with him. Then
he stiffened suddenly, and an alert
look came in his eyes.
At the same moment the other
man, apparently becoming aware of
his presence for the first time, stared
at him calmly, almost insolently.
Then he started. The monocle
dropped from his eye, and his face
went suddenly white. He half-
paused in his stride, then averting
his eyes from the other man hurried
on.

THE MAN IN THE CANOE WHEELED THE PADDLE WITH A DEXTERITY THAT PROCLAIMED LONG PRACTICE.

was working as if he had lost control of his facial muscles, and his
hands were tightly clenched.
"The bound!" he whispered to him-
self, "the contemptible bound!"
Then as Ainley and the factor's
wife disappeared in the store, he
laughed harshly and relit his pipe.
"No," he whispered to himself
breath. "I'll wait till the cool comes
out—I'll force him to acknowledge
me."
But scarcely had he reached the
decision, when on the quiet air came
the clear notes of a bugle sounding
the alert and turning his thoughts
in a new direction. The notes came
from the river and were so alien
to that northern land that he swung
round to discover their origin. At
the same moment the two half-
breeds leapt from the bench and
began to run towards the wharf. John
Rodwell, the factor and his wife,
emerged from the store and hurried
in the same direction, followed by
the Indian who had been bargaining.
Two other men appeared at the
warehouse door, and as the strains
of the bugle sounded again, also began to run towards the wharf.
Whilst from the factor's house came
a boy and girl, followed by a white woman and a couple of Indian servants, all of whom followed in the wake of the others.
The man in the Square did not move. Having turned towards the

SEEK WOMAN IN
COBURN MURDER

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 14.—Search for a woman said to have been in the company of Philip E. Fox, former Ku Klux Klan publicity man, charged with murder in connection with the shooting to death of W. S. Coburn, Klan attorney, shortly before the shooting, is under way from official sources here today. According to investigators, the woman may possess information regarding the motive for the shooting.

Fox is now reported to have registered at a downtown hotel during the early afternoon of slaying, and, investigators indicated, it was shortly before he registered there that he was seen in the company of the woman sought.

ore, Bleeding
Gums Point To
Pyorrhoea Ahead

Dentists say that a great majority of people either have pyorrhoea (Riggs disease) or pyorrhoeal tendencies. The beginning is sore, red, bleeding gums, sensitive or loose teeth, pus pockets and bad odors. Pyorrhoea not only affects the gums and teeth, but also your general health as the pus, which is very poisonous, is absorbed into the system, causing serious stomach troubles, the results of which are sometimes fatal.

You can now treat pyorrhoea at home and get relief with a formula known as Creosene, the new discovery that, through penetration, carries a powerful but harmless germicidal, of which creosote (the greatest germ-destroying tissue-preserving system known and used by dentists for years) is the base, right to the roots of the teeth, killing the pyorrhoea germs, making the gums healthy, tightening up and preserving the teeth, healing pus pockets, relieving pain and destroying odors caused by decayed or abscessed teeth. Creosene is pleasant to use, and should be used by every one who wears a plate, as it keeps the gums firm and healthy and free from pain. $1.00 at your druggist and your money back if it fails. Creosene Co., Atlanta, Ga.—adv.

Aristocratic Cat Leaves Home

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Sammy, aristocratic mongrel cat of Gotham, has run away from home.

His departure halted an extended tour of his wealthy mistress, wrecked plans for a country home, where he was to have room to romp, and brought sorrow and frantic search in the fashionable Riverside Drive neighborhood where Sammy made his home.

By virtue of white spots on neck and feet, Sammy was marked as the chosen son of five kittens. The others were drowned for economic reasons. Of low birth, he became an aristocrat when his pleasing feline personality attracted the attention of a wealthy woman, who refused to permit the use of her name. He lived in state.

Then Sammy's mother, angry because he had been spared as a constant reminder of lost sons and daughters, slapped the kitten blind in the left eye.

This affliction brought only more care for Sammy by his owner. She took him on long trips South in the winter and North in the summer. He traveled in a made-to-order case.

Because Sammy did not have an opportunity to play in the open, long as his winter quarters were only a luxurious apartment on extravagant Riverside Drive, it was decided that a country home would be built with Sammy as the contending argument for its construction.

His owner might have had the most expensive of lap dogs, the finest of pedigreed cats, but Sammy was her favorite. She loved him.

Unexpectedly his mistress had to leave the city. Sammy was left in the care of his loving friend, Mrs. New York, she received this wire: "Sammy is gone. Can't be located. We are searching."

Immediately her trip was cancelled.

"SAMMY"

led. Scores of boys and men were paid to conduct a neighborhood search. Rewards first placed at $25, then increased to $50 and $75, have now been boosted to "anything" for the return of Sammy, mongrel cat, blind in one eye—loved by his owner.

When last seen Sammy was wearing an expensive collar—and a bow tie of expressive pink ribbon.

"I know Sammy left to search for me," said his owner, drying swollen eyes with a handkerchief that cost as much as many a suit of clothes.

"He was lenient to me—and thought, he could find me. I should have taken him with me. I would give anything to have Sammy returned."

Germany has decided to repudiate the Versailles treaty and will avoid compliance with reparations and all other clauses, Berlin unofficial dispatch to the London Daily Mail says.

Germany has announced complete cessation of all reparations payments, according to another unconfirmed Berlin news agency dispatch.

Samuel D. Warriner, spokesman for anthracite operators, assails Governor Pinchot's statement that coal industry had refused to clean its house.

The "Century" in this case is Century Miltstead, a tackle who came to Yale from Wahash College, who has proved the most powerful offensive and defensive factor in the Yale line this season. The "battle" is the prospective duel between Miltstead and Frank Rutan, Princeton's ablest tackle.

The meeting of this pair of broodingnagans is expected to produce one of the most grueling individual battles between rival lineemen and the success or failure of the contesting teams may depend upon its outcome.

Whether either will last through the entire four periods is a topic of comment among gridiron enthusiasts and subject of concern to rival coaches, for each has just recovered from injury and in consequence is subject to renewal of return of such hurts.

The presence of Rutan in the Tiger lineup furnishes out one of the possible difficulties that will stand between the Yale team and a victory in Saturday's contest. The brilliant display of the Tigers in the closing minutes of the Harvard game revealed undiscovered possibilities in Princeton players and Yale is aware that Roper is capitalizing his new found stars.

Roper's announcement that Princeton will take advantage of the great kicking ability of Howell Van Gerbig is another object of concern.

Van Gerbig, until he was injured in the Harvard battle, was gaining from ten to twenty yards on each exchange of punts. Three such exchanges in the first few minutes of play furnished Princeton with an opportunity to score but Harvard blocked the attempted field goal.

Ed. Walton, Sr., has returned from a visit to his son, Walter, Jr., who is now stationed on Clover Market.

Danville Should
Have First Class
Football Game

There has been considerable agitation for a college football game here in Danville. It is believed that Danville furnish sufficient patronage to make such a game financially inviting. It is certain that if the proposition gets the right sort of backing there is no doubt of its success.

There is no reason in the world why some Virginia team cannot be matched with a North Carolina team here in Danville. It has been suggested that Hampden-Sidney at Davidson be brought to this city next fall. Hampden-Sidney has already scheduled a game with Davidson and the two teams are looking around for a place to meet. Richmond, it is understood is anxious to have the game scheduled in that city, but Danville goes after the contest.

can be gotten for this city. Danville should have two football games of the major order. There are any number of Virginia and North Carolina schools that are more than willing to come to this city assured of a large enough crowd to pay expenses.

It seems a propitious opening for the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions club. These three organizations could name a committee to get back of the proposition and put it over.

The following dispatch from Hampden-Sidney will be of interest.

The 1924 Hampden-Sidney schedule will soon be given to the press as Athletic Director Bernier has been working hard to have this complete by the end of the present season. The card will be a more difficult one than ever attempted before with such games as University of Virginia, V. P. I., Davidson and Maryland practically assured.

Davidson may be played in Richmond, although Danville is very anxious to entertain these two Freshman teams. The game is the first arranged between these institutions of similar spirit. Davidson, however, is the larger college having an enrollment of 500, while the Tiger institution is still below the 200 mark.

An interesting fact about the game will be the pitting of Bernier, team against that of Monk Young and Tex Tilson, both of whom received their early training at V. P. I. when Bernier was coaching there. It is probable that the schedule will include a game with Bill Lava Furman Purple Hurricane, as Bernier and Lava are great friends and have always scheduled games with each other.

DARTMOUTH MAY BECOME MEMBER
OF NEW BIG FOUR

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Report that Dartmouth may be accorded late season date on the Yale football schedule for 1924 have led many close followers of college sports to predict that the near future will witness the development of the so-called "Big Three" comprising Harvard, Yale and Princeton, into a "Big Four" with Dartmouth as the added member.

The first step toward this end is believed, came last year when Harvard, after allowing its lengthy Dartmouth football series to lapse for period of ten years, resumed friendly relations with the Green. The second step is seen in Yale's apparent interest in Dartmouth. The only remaining move necessary is the resumption by Princeton of its Dartmouth football series, which was halted in 1918.

D. M. I. Second Team Defeat High Scrubs By a Field Goal

Showing consistent form throughout the game the D. M. I. second team yesterday on the D. M. I. grounds defeated the Danville High second team by the score of 3 to 0, a field goal in the last few minutes of play deciding the contest.

The score, however, does not disclose the length of the two teams. The D. M. I. scrubs gained three times as much ground as their opponents and showed a substantial driving power that was really remarkable in players so young and inexperienced.

In the first quarter they took the ball on downs from the Danville team and began a drive down the field that brought them to the five yard line before they lost the oval on downs. Another drive a few minutes later brought them within the shadow of their opponents goal, but they were unable to carry the ball over and Blair's punt carried the ball out of danger.

In the last quarter D. M. I. carried the ball for the entire length of the field and on the five yard line, with goal to go and two downs in which to make the distance, the cadets chose to try for a field goal.

Young Gravely, a quarter back, received the ball and lifted a twisting drop toward the goal. The ball barely passed within the uprights.

With only two minutes to play the High school players staged a desperate rally and began hustling forward passes that carried them some distance up the field. However, a long pass was intercepted by a D. M. I. player just as the whistle blew announcing the end of the game.

Only once during the game did the High school scrubs threaten to score. That was at the close of the first half, when the whistle found them on the ten yard line. It was the one sustained drive of the High school lads.

During the major portion of the game they were outplayed and outgeneraled by their opponents. The generalship of Gravely for the cadets was the feature of the contest. Throughout the four periods he kept his head, ran his signals briskly and with precision and excellent judgment and if it had not been for the final moments of the game brought victory to his team, by a drop kick.

The line plunging of Acosta, A., left halfback for the cadets, also featured. Time and again he made big gains through the line. Wilkinson, fullback for the cadets, showed almost as much line plunging ability as his teammate and a great deal more speed. With added experience he should make a good player.

Thomas and Cook, guards, played splendid ball in the line, opening big holes for their plunging backs. For Danville the work of Blair and Gwynn in the back field was outstanding. Dyer played excellent ball in the line. Ruffin, right end, also played consistent ball and held down gains around his side of the line.

The line up follows: High School: Burnette, L. E.; Trundle, Reynolds, L. E.; Broadus, Thomas, L. T.; Rogers, Owens, L. G.; Zabawa, Cook, C.; Reaves, Allen, R. G.; Dyer, Acosta, R. T.; Ruffin, Gravely, R. E.; Blair, Acosta, A. Q.; Harris, Desper, L. H.; Gwynn, Wilkinson, R. E.; Rucker. Substitutes: D. M. I. Pritchett for Desper; High school—Jennings and Farley for Reaves.

Referee, Clark; umpire, Benton; Headlinesman, Captain Carter; Timekeeper, Capt. Digs.

GRAYSON READY TO MATCH MY OWN

(By The Associated Press) BALTIMORE, Nov. 14.—Read Admiral Grayson is ready to match My Own against Harry F. Sinclair's Zev, the famous three year old to meet at Bowie between November 24 and December 1. Included in Zev's challenge are In Memoriam and Home-Saturday. Admiral Grayson would make the proposed contest a two, three or four-cornered affair.

James F. O'Hara, general manager of Bowie, said tonight he would offer a purse of $10,000 for such a contest, and that any conditions suitable to the owners of the thoroughbreds would be agreeable to him.

University Of Virginia and V. P. I. To Meet For First Time In 18 Years

(By The Associated Press) RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—The first meeting between the University of Virginia and Virginia Polytechnic Institute gridiron squads in eighteen years will attract the attention of football fans in Virginia over the coming week-end. But while the game at Lambsfield Field, Charlottesville, is being given first attention, Washington and Lee's tussle with South Carolina at Columbia, S. C., and Virginia Military Institute's scrap with Tennessee at Knoxville will be of only little less interest.

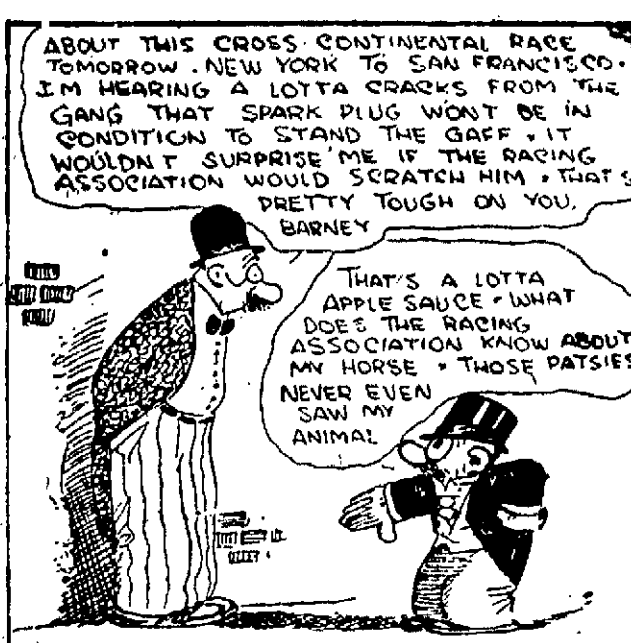

Tech and Virginia will resume football relations Saturday with the record of last year's performance between the two institutions strongly in favor of the University eleven. Of the nine games played prior to the severance of relations in 1905, Tech won only one—the last one played and that by the score of 11 to 0. Including this score, Tech made only sixteen points in the nine games, against a grand total of 171 by Virginia.

However, Coach Cubbage's crew has promised a different story from now on. Reports from Blacksburg state that although Tech does not understand Virginia's strength and ability to come back, the Gobblers are determined that nothing will keep them from victory Saturday. On the other hand, Coach Eric Neale, handicapped by injuries to his first string men, is drilling his squad both in the afternoon and at night. The entire Orange and Blue team is determined to close the season with a better record than it started with.

Coach De Hart's Generals, nursing bruises and injuries as a result of the smashing defeat at the hands of West Virginia last week, are much concerned over the game Saturday with South Carolina. Washington and Lee scouts are authorities for the statement that the Gamecocks have a formidable aggregation and that it will be known that they would rather make a victim of the Generals than any other team on their schedule.

Nine Brothers Win Baseball Pennant For Michigan Town

(By The Associated Press) COLEMAN, Mich., Nov. 15.—To write the lineup of the Coleman baseball team all a scorer is required to do is to put down "Menther" at the top of the column and then jot down eight "ditto" marks beneath.

The Coleman team is all Menther—nine brothers—each a six footer, and there are three others who can pinch hit if needed. Fred Menther, 73 years old, is the father of this baseball team that won its second consecutive district league pennant this year. "Pa" Menther keeps his weather eye on the management of the club, although another son is in active charge. Mr. Menther did not miss a game during the past season, being on hand to see his boys capture 13 and lost three games played in the league that is made up of clubs from Clare, Beaverton, Gladwin, Rosebush, Farewell and Coleman.

Father Menther is proud of his ball-playing sons. Mrs. Menther, mother of the nine players, three other sons and four daughters, says she doesn't know much about the game, but likes to see her boys play and win. Playing on Sundays, as has been the custom in the league, is much against her wishes, however. Another cause for worry is her fear that some of her sons may become too good on the home diamond and be lured to the cities by scouts from the big leagues. Mrs. Menther wants her family to remain here and work the 600 acres of farm land that occupies most of the entire family's working hours.

The age range of the brothers is 13 to 36 years. August Menther, the oldest player, is rightfielder; Henry, the "baby," who is 13, plays second base and pitches when brother Joseph, pitcher and captain, needs relief on the mound.

The Coleman team roster is: Jason Menther, R.; Joseph, P.; Edward, C.; William, SS; Fred, 3b; Floyd, 1b; Otto, cf; Henry, 2b; and August, rf; and Frank, manager.

V. M. I. Will Meet Tennessee Team

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 14.—With the North Carolina game a matter of history, the V. M. I. Flying Squadron is putting in a busy week in preparation for the long trip to Knoxville, where the Tennessee Volunteers will be met for the first time. Although the Vols suffered a decided reverse at the hands of Vanderbilt Saturday, they have defeated strong teams this season, notably Tulane and Mississippi J. & M., and the Cadets expect to have their hands full.

Coaches Clarkson and Raftery are well satisfied with V. M. I.'s showing against the Tarheels, especially the defensive strength exhibited by the Cadets. Carolina failed to penetrate V. M. I. territory at any time during the game, and made her two first downs at the beginning of the first period. The Cadets made first downs in every quarter for a total of eleven in spite of the stubborn defense put up by Fetzer's men.

Although the Cadets gained consistently through the line and completed five passes for substantial gains, at the same time preventing the Tarheels from completing a single pass, the coaches expect to spend most of the time during the week in an effort to polish up the Flying Squadron's offensive weapons. The Cadets played a safe and sane game Saturday under orders, but the coaches want to be sure that the necessary punch will not be lacking against Tennessee.

Due to Trainer Quinlan's scientific padding and bandaging before and during the game, White, Ryder, and Ferguson came through safely in spite of old injuries. Wirt Faulkner,

GREAT CENTER HELPS CALIFORNIA, IN DISTRESS

LEFT TO RIGHT: "BABE" HORRELL, BILL BLEWETT.

By NEA Service. BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 15.—Threatened mediocrity of the University of California's football eleven this year has been averted by a great center and a family tradition.

The center is "Babe" Horrell, 185-pounder, who has been one of the sensations of the coast this season, and who is being touted for All-America honors. Horrell is everything a center should be, both on defense and offense, and a wizard at breaking through and spilling enemy plays in the making. Bill Blewett, California's star triple threat, personifies the aforementioned family tradition. Blewett comes from a family of football stars. Four Blewetts have played with California.

George, who died of injuries, received on the university field in '17, James '18, Bill and Dick, and then Bill, who captains the frosh this year. All have been formidable but great—Andy Smith at a time when capables are badly needed. Most of the stars of last year's wonder team are gone. Worse yet, Stanford, California's principal opponent, stepped forth with her greatest team. Matters looked black.

And then Horrell started to develop. All-America class in the line and Blewett began to tear things up in the backfield. Blewett can run with the ball, hit the line, pass and receive. On top of that he has one of the most accurate kicking toes in the west. Blewett is a dangerous drop kicker from any point up to the fifty-yard line.

Jimmy Adams, Pacific coast welterweight, will make his local debut at the Rink Sporting Club two weeks from Thursday night against Charlie Murray.

SUNDAY MANAGER IS SHOTTON'S UNIQUE JOB

The only Sunday manager in the major leagues is the title that belongs to Bert Shotton of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Branch Rickey is the regular boss, but he has religious scruples and refuses to have anything to do with baseball on Sunday, hence Shotton's unique job.

During his career as one-day-a-week manager, Shotton has made a great record. He is batting considerably better than .500 in the games won percentage.

They do say that Bert merely carries out the orders of his boss, that Rickey selects the pitchers and suggests possible changes the day prior to the game. Regardless of such rumors Shotton wins ball games.

Since all ball games do not run true to form, Shotton deserves much credit for the Sunday showing that has been made by the Cardinals since he was placed in charge. It would occasion no surprise if Shotton got a chance to show his true worth when Rickey decides to give up the managerial end of the game.

Shotton, strangely enough, made his major league debut as a member of the rival team in St. Louis, the Browns of the American League. Shotton, who seldom does more than act as a pinch hitter these days, played the outfield and was a mighty good man. He was very fast.

Near the close of his American League career he was traded to Washington, where he remained until Branch Rickey took charge of the Cardinals. Shotton started under Rickey when he managed the Browns and naturally Rickey took advantage of the first opportunity to get him back as a member of the Cardinals.

MIDDLE WEIGHT BOXERS MATCHED

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Negotiations for a fifteen round match between Gene Tunney and Harry Greb, respective holders of the American light-heavyweight and world's middle weight titles, at Madison Square Garden, December 10, were completed today by Tex Rickard. Tunney's title will be the only one at stake.

The match was arranged to replace the contest previously scheduled on that date between Tunney and Mike McGuire, holder of the world's 175 pound crown.

McGuire, who declared that his manager, Joe Jacobs, signed for the match without his approval withdrew because of his claim that he has not recovered from an injury he sustained to his left hand prior to his recent fight with Young Stribling at Columbus, Ga.

ZEV TO ARRIVE AT DOWNS TODAY

(By The Associated Press) LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 14.—Zev, matched to meet his recent conqueror in Memoriam, at Churchill Downs, here Saturday, is due to arrive at the Downs Thursday morning. Colonel Matt J. Winn, general manager of the Kentucky Jockey Club, said, following receipt today of a telegram from Zev's trainer, Sam Hildreth, that the challenger was on the way. In Memoriam is already on the ground.

The track at Churchill Downs this week has been fast and the weather clear. Track conditions, Saturday, however, may have an important bearing on the race as Mr. Wiedemann, In Memoriam's owner, entered the match reserving the privilege of withdrawing his horse should a committee of turfmen, to be appointed by the Kentucky Jockey Club, find the track heavy and without firm footing the day of the race.

Better racing weather could seldom be asked, as the sun has shone every day since last Saturday and has dried the track until it is fast. If the present weather continues, as seems possible, but little attention will be paid to this part of the agreement upon which the match was entered. This special meeting is looked upon in turf circles as the biggest sporting venture of the year, as the conditions entered into by the owners of the colts have thrown any monetary consideration into the back ground. The race is to be horse against horse, thoroughbred against thoroughbred and sporting blood against sporting blood.

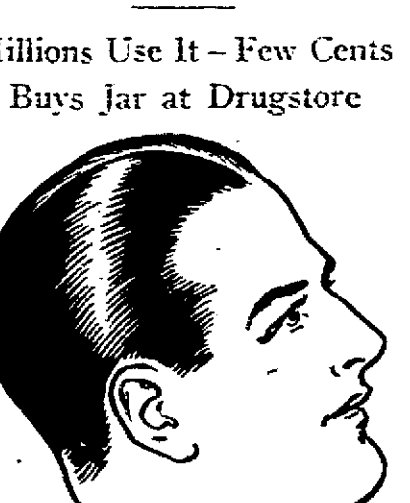

Due to Trainer Quinlan's scientific padding and bandaging before and during the game, White, Ryder, and Ferguson came through safely in spite of old injuries. Wirt Faulkner,

Every available moment is being utilized by De Hart in preparing substitutes for this game and in perfecting new offensive and defensive tactics. Lexington reports quote De Hart as saying it is probable he will have to use many substitutes Saturday because of the crippled condition of his regulars.

V. M. I.'s Flying Squadron is putting in a busy week in preparation for the same with Tennessee at Knoxville on Saturday. The Cadets came through the game with North Carolina last week in good physical shape and the entire first string is expected to be in condition to start against the Volunteers, who are expected to give them a tough battle. It will be the first meeting between the two institutions and both are anxious to get the jump on the other.

Sparkling Musical Comedy at the Majestic Next Tuesday, Nov. 20th.

What will prove an unique musical entertainment is the Messrs. Shubert's production of "Sally, Irene and Mary," a joyous musical comedy of youth in two acts and nine scenes, which will be the attraction at the Majestic Theatre, Tuesday, November 20th. Eddie Dowling, who provided the book, hit upon the original and curious notion of taking the heroines of three highly successful pieces, "Sally," "Irene" and "Mary," to wit, and building a story around them. The title roles will be taken by Louise Brown, Kitty Flynn, and Marguerite Zander. Gus Wood is co-author with Mr. Dowling in "Sally, Irene and Mary." The lyrics are by Raymond Klages and the music by J. Fred Coots. The important players are: Eddie Featherston, Sallie Stember, Estelle Kuyte, Mary Lane, Bessie Gross, Millie Freeman, Katherine Ward, Maida Reade, Carlin Crandall, Harriet Ross, Joe Barrett, and a charming collection of tantalizing, toe-tapping terpsichoreans and the famous Century Beauty Ballet. Prices 50c to $2.50. Seat sale opens Friday. Mail orders now.

CO-OP MEETING
Meeting of the Ringgold Local Co-op at Ringgold school Friday night, November 6 at 7 p.m. By order of Secretary, W. H. WILSON, JR.

MEDICS DISCUSS SPECIAL TOPICS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Delegates to the Southern Medical Association convention here devoted their time today to sectional meetings for discussions of special topics. Alumni of the various Southern universities assembled tonight at various places for reunions.

Failure of the proper reduction of the child birth mortality rate was blamed by Dr. J. George Dempsey, of the Louisiana State Board of Health, upon the lack of women trained specially to care for mothers at the natal and post-natal stages.

Dr. J. Ross Snyder of Birmingham, speaking before the Pediatrics section, criticized the tendency of some mothers to try to rear their children according to rules given in handbooks.

Average price 20 industrial $0.76, off .33, twenty rails $1.20, up .70.

This Little World

By GEORGE BRITT

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Time turns backward 40 years when an old black and yellow horse-drawn bus drives by between the Northwestern station and a State street department store.

An anachronism on Chicago streets—two horses trotting to keep up with the motor procession, long body like a miniature street car swaying on its high wheels, narrow door above the steps at the rear, and queerest of all a small galber joint of stove pipe puffing away at a rakish tilt back of the driver's seat.

Ask the combination driver and conductor if the bus is out of date. Lots of old passengers won't ride in a motorbus. We carry 18 people a trip at 5 cents a piece. And it only costs $9 a day to pay all expenses.

Amid the glittering social display at the opening of the opera season were one or two stiff-shirted gentlemen whose distinguishing ornaments were rose noses and fragrant breaths. They dozed mostly with mildly disturbing moments of wakefulness.

Upon the stage the great Chalmers as Boris Godunoff, conscience haunted, staggers in, knocks a candlestick from the table and huris a chair into clattering vacancy. A sleeper opens one eye.

"Shav," he approves. "Tiv t' be zeelman, you."

gray-haired, with gold-rimmed spectacles and a black cape. The woman seated next begins chatting with her.

Man swinging on strap beside the husband remarks it's a fine day. Not so sold!

Harry Dalsev, architect and building owner, a year ago opened a new apartment building on a policy of "25 in gold and a cradle" to every baby born to a tenant. The scheme works so well he has just started three more buildings, aggregating 113 apartments in desirable residence sections. All will be operated under the same terms.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Speculative sentiment was unsettled at the opening of today's stock market and price changes were narrow and irregular. The widest fluctuations took place in ordinarily inactive specialties.

The market turned upward in the first half an hour in response to heavy buying of the equipment, motor, independent steel and minor oil shares. Baldwin Locomotives advanced 3-8, Pullman 2-4 and Virginia Carolina Chemical pfd 3, while gains of a point or more were registered by American Locomotive, Dupont, Studebaker, Mack Truck, Bosch Magneto, U. S. Alcohol, Gulf States Steel and several others. Activity and strength of the market, pfd., featured the rails. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—A general buying movement carried the price of cotton 20 to 42 points higher in the first half hour of trading today, December reaching up to 22 1/2. Better cables than 22 1/2, evening discounts on the spot market and a more favorable opinion of the dry goods business of this country and England were back of the advance. One Manchester cable message claimed that shippers of cloth in the market were short. Galveston messages claimed that 5,000 bales of cotton would be exported from that market in the next two days.

Republicans Meet To Receive Bids For Convention From Five Cities

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The 1924 presidential campaign had its official premiere today with the meeting here of Republican national committee-men to receive invitations and bids from five cities for the Republican national convention.

A sub committee of five committee-men headed by David Milvane, of Kansas, as chairman met to hear the claims and scrutinize the bids from Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Des Moines and San Francisco.

Chicago, backed by the customs and habits of two decades in its entertainment of the Republican hosts at conventions decided by many as the more powerful contender, but delegations from the other cities were prepared to match Chicago's consideration.

The proposals received from the five cities will be summarized by the subcommittee, probably without reaching any definite recommendation and submitted to the full national committee when it meets here December 11 to make final selection of the convention city.

NEW YORK COTTON. (By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The cotton market showed renewed strength at the opening today owing to the continued advance in Liverpool, reiterated rumors of small private ginning re-union covering and commission house and trade buying. First prices were firm at an advance of 20 to 25 points with January selling up to 22 1/2 and March to 23 1/2 but these prices met a good deal of realizing and some scattered southern selling.

There were renewed reports that considerable cotton might be expected to come here for delivery next week and fluctuations were rather irregular during the early trading although prices held fairly steady within 10 or 15 points of the best.

Would Reduce Pay Scale In British Forces

(By The Associated Press.) LONDON, Nov. 15.—The drums of war having ceased to beat, Tommy Atkins is going to have his pay reduced. So are the sergeants and subalterns and captains and even majors in His Majesty's Army. The colonels and generals, however, will continue to draw their present salaries.

One of the members of the committee of three which recommended the reductions is a general. The committee said it did not think any of the services' err on the side of paying their best men too much. The other two members of the committee are knighted civilians.

It is far from certain that these recommendations will be carried out to the letter. For one thing, there will be a long and loud protest raised against lower pay, but it is probable that, to some extent, the proposed reductions will be put in force.

Privates now receive two shillings and nine pence a day to start on. The committee would reduce this to 16 shillings. A captain's pay of 25s 5d would be cut to 21 shillings. Reductions in the navy and the air force also are proposed, but only for those ranking below commanders.

The committee declares that the pay of an infantry recruit and of an ordinary seaman has increased 175 per cent. and 167 per cent. respectively, above the scale of 1914. Before the war Tommy Atkins got less money than agricultural engineers and building laborers, but now he receives considerably more. That is one of the chief arguments used by the committee.

The committee recommended also that the lower ranking workers in the civil service toll eight hours a day instead of seven. Their bosses, however, are not asked to extend their working hours.

MORNING GRAIN LITTER. (Thomson & McKinnon) CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The United States crop of wheat plus reserves from previous year gives a total some 25,000,000 bushels less than last year but at the same time, exports to date are about 25,000,000 below last year. In other words total supplies are a trifle greater than a year ago. Canada produced 17,000,000 bushels more than last year and European crops are better than any year since the war. Argentine promises a record yield of 20,000,000 bushels. It is impossible to discover tenable reasons for permanently higher prices.

Band Is Lauded For Sunday Concert

Professor Joseph Vezzetti, director of Riverside and Dan River Concert Band, has received the following letter from Mr. Waverly H. Cousins, Post Commander, the American Legion. Prof. Vezzetti wishes to share the appreciation expressed in this letter with all members of the city choir and all others who assisted him at the Sunday afternoon concert on November 11 at the Tabernacle.

"My Dear Professor: On behalf of the Danville Post American Legion I desire to express to you, and thru you, to the members of your Riverside and Dan River Concert Band, our sincere appreciation of the splendid concert given Sunday afternoon, Nov. 11, at the Tabernacle.

"The Bee, yesterday afternoon, very fittingly says what I wanted to say: you know all along how much I have appreciated the very fine spirit of co-operation you have shown, and I would like to have you convey to the members of your band this expression of our appreciation. Nearly everyone who has stopped me to compliment the Danville Post on its excellent Armistice Day celebration has spoken most highly of your band and its capable leadership.

"Again, thank you, Sincerely yours, W. H. COUSINS, Post Commander.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

Thomson &amp; McKinnon

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The man that writes the headlines for one of the big daily papers has made it unnecessary for me to prepare a message this morning. He did it well and I will simply quote what he says: Here are the lines:

"Extra dividends cheer Wall Street."

"Many large distributions by corporations show 1923 as a prosperous year."

"Millions to be paid out."

"Their actions indicate that directors have confidence in the outlook."

"See business picking up."

"Doesn't that sound good?"

I wish the newspapers would stop writing stories about the rise and fall of sterling and other foreign exchange. Most people that write on the subject don't know much about it. I don't know anything about it and therefore don't like to discuss it, but I know one thing—that the moment a foreign country starts inflation—and here has been some talk of that in England recently—wise people in those countries will try and convert their money into good old United States money and invest it here.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

Thomson &amp; McKinnon

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Yesterday, notwithstanding very bullish consumption figures, scattered Wall Street interests sold. Room traders who sold early in the morning tried to cover and there was a scarcity of contracts.

Most traders buy on strong periods, which I think is a mistake and cotton should only be bought on good recessions.

I see nothing in the situation to warrant speculative sales.
